Dear Professor Bergson:

I am glad to be able to tell you that two of the best ships on the Atlantic Ocean — the Lusitania and the France — are to sail from New York for Europe on February 26 and 27, respectively.

I can reserve a cabin for you on either boat if you will indicate your preference. Perhaps you will prefer the France, as it will take you direct to Havre and land you there in all probability on the morning of Wednesday, March 5.

Faithfully yours,
